French guitarist Giles Le Bigot wrote this as an accordion tune while on an American tour with accordionist Serge Desauvay. He dedicates it to the touring musicians "who go to bed very late and must get up very early." He recorded it on his tape, Tunes for America, which is where Kerry Elkin heard it. Kerry recorded it on his album Soir et Matin, available from Kerry at 440 Snipatuit Rd, Rochester, MA 02770. It's also been recorded by guitarist David Surette on Back Roads, available from David at PO Box 4225, Portsmouth, NH 03802. Tunes for America is available from Giles Le Bigot, 7 Place des Pecheurs, 29100, Douarnenez, France.
